CHI CAUTION

The Chicago Times says: "The masses of the Democratic party are not transferrable upon contracts." On this subject the Times evidently "speaks by the card." Three or four years since that paper tried to deliver the Democratic party to negro suffrage, and failed. Early this year it labored for months to deliver the party to the Davis presidential movement, and could not deliver anything, and at the late of the party to t could not deliver anything, and at the late election it worked day and night to transfer the Democratic party to O'Conor, and secured just eighteen votes in Chicago and Cook county, where its influence is the greatest.
